Street lighting is required for traffic calming. Both possible schemes would run into 6 figures.

Peter Whitehead referred the July meeting the Parish Council when he addressed the need to extend the current churchyard at St Giles

Peter had sought detailed advice for each aspect of the work involved, with specific timelines to ensure each phase was correctly timed to maximise the prevailing weather cycle.

The project has now been fully costed and there is now a workable plan. One contractor will be responsible for the total tasks, which is the PCC's preferred option.
